This act makes several technical, administrative, and policy changes to Vermont tax laws and fees.

This act creates a process for Vermont taxpayers to donate to scholarship granting organizations and receive a tax credit on their federal income tax returns. It creates Vermont-specific requirements for qualifying scholarship granting organizations and the educational programs for which they provide scholarships.

This act amends the statutory fee-setting authority for access to Department of Fish and Wildlife properties. The Department is allowed to set fees for certain research and commercial uses and to set the tuition for Green Mountain Conservation Camps through regulation. All other land access fees are to be set through statute.

Starting on July 1, 2031, this act changes the grand list assessment date for annual property valuation from April 1 to January 1.

This act decouples Vermont from federal income tax relating to bonus depreciation for qualified production property, certain federal deductions for domestic research and experimental procedures, certain deductions for foreign derived income, and income excluded from the disposition of qualified small business stock. It also adds clarifying language regarding the treatment and tax administration relating to depreciating property for which Vermont disallows bonus depreciation. This act further links Vermont income tax up to the federal income tax for items that Vermont has not expressly decoupled.

This act increases the amount of tax credit available for research and development conducted in this State.

This act increases the amount of tax credits that may be awarded annually for the Downtown and Village Center Tax Credit.

This act changes the allocations of tax revenue from meals and rooms and purchase and use taxes.
